

Larry Lundy

Further to Fly is the first, in a series of collages, that are created from the patterns found in security envelopes . . .I've organized them into 3 groups; light, medium, and dark patterns, there are at least 16 different types . . .I cut the landscape shapes with a scissor, the circles were cut with paper hole punchers in 4 different sizes . . .the wings are a scanned cicada wing that I flopped to get the mirror version